Inclusive Early Learning Week

February 12 – 16 has been designated as the week that classrooms across the state will work on topics that include being friends, celebrating individual uniqueness, creating a community in our classroom and working together to achieve a goal. Ask your teacher what is planned in your child's classroom as we grow closer together by accepting the uniqueness of each other! Watch our FACEBOOK site for events that teachers share!

EARLY LANGUAGE and LITERACY GRANT Update

Our Toddlers are wearing the little vests that contain recorders. The recording analysis is shared with the individual teacher. We have learned that rather than just talking to a child, waiting for the child to respond to a communication leads to faster use of the language. WOW! With the vests the teachers can evaluate the day to day talking they have done with each child. Have YOU visited READRIGHTFROMTHESTART.org site and read about how the child's brain is developing and how YOU can influence the process! Find the "SERVE and RETURN: The Secret to Strong Brain Architecture" pdf under the Resource Library Tab. See how you can increase your conversations with your child. Talk, share, answer questions, and remember that repetition is the key to a child's learning!

SCHOLASTIC BOOKS

MANY of our families are now making regular purchases from this excellent and inexpensive source of Award Winning Books. Remember to make time each day for at least 15 minutes reading time with your child. Early experiences with the written word lead to READERS!!!

LOST & FOUND

Please check the Lost & Found box for missing coats. The boxes were empty as we began January but now our boxes are overflowing again, Writing the child's name in the coat is very helpful.

FLU SEASON

Please consult your pediatrician about the immunization. You may avoid missing work and your child may avoid missing school days and avoid serious complications! Please don't be the parent who just never gets around to getting the shots! We have already had cases in the Centers. Even though we are presently in an epidemic, health advisors say that it is not too late to prevent catching this highly contagious virus.

HELP Prevent Spread: Use our hand sanitizer as you enter and leave. Please wash your child's hands as they arrive.
